INTRODUCTION

I have worked for years in the interactive industry, but have always enjoyed the immediacy of the pencil-on-paper part of an otherwise digital process. I hope you enjoy the “behind the scenes” glimpses afforded by this little book. Though it is not a large part of my portfolio, I have been called upon for my sketching and illustrating skills alone and would welcome any similar opportunities. Though much of my work is web related, I also entertain print projects and find the physical form of type on paper inspiring. I have a particular affinity for letterpress and book arts. I am experienced working as part of team or singly, both directly or indirectly with clients. I’ve had only positive experiences with my colleagues, if you would like references just let me know.
